

DR. ALONIA PARKS

DR. ALONIA

The Prolific Voice

GREAT STORYTELLER: WRITING, SPEECH, SONG

Dr. Alonia Parks is an inspirational speaker and vocalist, accomplished journalist, public relations professional, spiritual leader, and certified life coach. She is highly endowed with the gift of communication. Positively impacting lives since 1985, she is CEO of Dream 2 Destiny Enterprises, an Atlanta-based corporate communications and human development company committed to “clarifying, chronicling and celebrating YOUR success.” As servant leader/pastor of Dream to Destiny Ministries (since 2016), a Christ-centered, nondenominational, virtual church based in Atlanta, Georgia, she helps people live victorious lives through God’s Word. She was licensed to preach in 2000 by Rev. Dr. Curtis L. Lester at Greater Bethany Baptist Church in Atlanta, GA. Her career encompasses outstanding experiences in nonprofit, academic, faith-based, corporate and governmental arenas, and she lives her life based on the foundational principles of service to God, service to man, accountability, integrity, and excellence. Because of her expansive gift of communication, she is professionally known as Dr. Alonia: The Prolific Voice.

An Atlanta native, Dr. Alonia graduated Salutatorian and homecoming queen from William A. Bass High School. She earned her bachelor’s degree in English from Spelman College and studied Biblical Studies and Theology at Luther Rice Seminary. She received a Doctor of Humane Letters degree from Global International Alliance in 2022 in recognition of 30-plus years of humanitarianism and philanthropy.

Among her many honors and awards are the Woman of Excellence Award (Atlanta Tribune/Atlanta Daily World), Woman of Influence Award (ACHI Magazine), Spelman College’s Alumnae Achievement Award (Media/Communications), Hidden Figure of DeKalb County, letter of commendation from the White House, Live Believe Dream’s But-I-Fly Award, and she was recognized by Voices of Champions (VOC) Magazine as one of 10 Powerful Women CEOs. She is the ghost writer of God Has a Plan for the Underdog (autobiography of Shelley “Butch” Anthony, III, owner of This Is It! Southern Kitchen & Bar-B-Q), served as lead features writer for Who’s Who in Black Atlanta® for many years, features writer for Who’s Who in Black Alabama® and Who’s Who in Black Birmingham®, was named one of the Atlanta Business League’s top three storytellers, and was nominated as Most Outstanding Journalist by the Electronic Urban Report, an honor she shared with former ESSENCE editor-in-chief, Susan Taylor, and romance novelist, Zane. She is also a recipient of Atlanta’s first Mayor’s Scholar Award, a scholarship bestowed to scholars from four of Atlanta’s then-21 high schools for excellence in essay writing.

Dr. Alonia is the former owner of two magazines: IMANI (1997-2004) and South Fulton Lifestyle (2016-2017). She is the mastermind behind the BFLY<sup>SM</sup> brand of inspiration, the Wise Women Prosper<sup>SM</sup> women’s conference, and The Dream Institute Collaborative (formerly known as The Dream Institute). She is a doting mother to three successful adult children: James, Kori (Donnell), and Emmanuel; loving grandmother to JaBari, Jaylan, and Imani; supportive daughter to Velma Parks; and second mother to her nephew, Ralph and niece, Laquita (Randy). With music as her first love, this lively personality enjoys singing and dancing. As “The Silky Songstress,” she is on a mission to spread love, joy, and peace through the art of music. Dr. Alonia also loves staying fashionable, healthy, and fit. A travel enthusiast, she looks forward to broadening her horizons through international travel. Stay connected to Dr. Alonia online at www.dralonia.com and www.aloniasings.com.